Mike Gregory is a renowned speaker on the subject of removable prosthodontics both in the U.K. and, overseas via social media platforms. He focuses his teaching at both undergraduates as well as postgraduate clinicians and technicians. His aim is to demystify and simplify the art of dentures for anyone who is enthusiastic to learn this essential skill.

Learning objectives

- Appreciate the advantages of modifying 'stock' trays
- Be able to modify 'stock' impression trays for optimal extension
- Recognise when special impression techniques are required.
