Meet the speaker

James Fitton

James qualified from the University of Leeds and initially worked in general practice in Edinburgh. He then undertook two years as a senior house officer in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at the Royal United Hospital in Bath and Restorative Dentistry at the Royal London Hospital. He later enrolled on the four year specialist training programme at Guy's and King's College London Dental Institute and has also been awarded the Membership in Endodontics by the RCS, England and Edinburgh.

He accepts endodontic referrals in private practice in and around Oxfordshire.

Learning objectives

- Achieve a diagnosis and know when to wait or intervene
- Recognise complicating factors and decide on prognosis
- Understand the appropriate use and value of special tests
- Gain deeper insight into techniques used to clean, shape and fill
- Gain practical tips to overcome complications and mishaps.
